Entries Open for the Arte Laguna Prize 2019 in Venice - Apply Now!

A prestigious international art competition dedicated to the visual arts, Arte Laguna Prize has been promoting and supporting artists and their careers through a range of opportunities since 2006. For the past thirteen years, it has been collecting thousands of applications from individuals from all over the world, who are selected by a jury of excellence and exhibited across several sections in the great exhibition in March taking place in the evocative spaces of the Arsenale of Venice.

The applications for the 2019 edition of Arte Laguna Prize are now open. In addition to painting, sculpture and installation, virtual art, photographic art, digital graphics, video art and short films, performance, urban art and land art, the fair now opens its doors to design, dedicating to it a new important section.

As Laura Gallon, one of the founders, states, this change "is the natural continuation of the growth of Arte Laguna Prize and the expression of the blurred boundaries between design and art that we have been observing for a long time."

Arte Laguna Prize 2019 Italy – Call for Artists

This year, the Arte Laguna Prize jury of 10 international art experts will select the works of 120 finalist artists from different categories, which will be on view from March 16th until April 7th, 2019 at the Arsenale Nord of Venice. Among these works, six winners will be selected and awarded prizes for a total prize money of 42.000€.

There are six additional prizes for the 13th edition of Arte Laguna:
